pull up a chair

Meet Mari, the shear genius

Mari learned to braid in her grandma's kitchen, where Saturday mornings meant hot combs, an old radio and half the neighborhood waiting their turn.

Years later, after a decade in fancy salons where clients felt rushed and judged, she missed that kitchen. So she built one, with better chairs.

Snippy is that place: real talent, upfront prices and every hair type welcome. The only attitude in the building belongs to the scissors, and she has been asked to tone it down. She said no.

"Nobody should feel nervous in a salon chair. Bring your hair, we'll bring the hype."

— Mari, owner

The Snippy Promise

More bangs for your buck. (Only the ones you asked for.)

1. We chat before we snip. No surprise bangs.
2. Every price is on the menu. No mystery math at the register.
3. Every hair type welcome. Curls get the VIP chair.
4. Love it, or we fix it free within 7 days. No side-eye.
5. Zero judgment about your last at-home trim. (Snippy's eyebrow moves on its own.)

Meet the crew

One stylist. One very sharp sidekick.

MARI
The Stylist
Owner, curl whisperer and color nerd. Has talked down more cowlicks than a hostage negotiator.

SNIPPY
Head of Bang Security
Catchphrase: "I'm not judging. I'm assessing." Has a long-running feud with the comb.

How it works

1. Book, walk in or run in
2. Chat before we snip
3. Hair flip out the door
